Summary

A Frontend Web Developer with a few years of experience designing responsive, scalable and adaptive websites. Adept at maintaining focus on achieving bottom-line results while formulating and implementing advanced technologies and business solutions to meet a diversity of needs. Give critical attention to little details for effective results and able to maintain focus even under pressure. A life-long and fast learner capable of adapting in a fast-paced learning/working environment. A good collaborator, aiming to work as a Frontend Developer in a firm with great foresights where I can utilize my skills to achieve set goals and also learn.
